SECTION A - SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION

The purpose of this amendment (Amendment 0013) is to do the following. It should be noted that the government is not opening discussions. We are only amending the terms of the referenced solicitation.

1. The requirement for the BES which was deleted in its entirety in Amendment 0011 is hereby REINSTATED to this procurement. However, NOTE that the government will not evaluate or procure the BES under this solicitation/contract action. Consequently no technical submission for the BES is required to be submitted. Additionally the price sheet for the BES that was zeroed in Amendment 0011, will not be reinstated. However, offerors may wish to reinstate your original prices for the BES, (realizing that we will not be procuring the BES), or any changes from your original submission. Since we will not evaluate this element, the price will not be calculated into the Overall Total Evaluated Price.

2. CLARIFY Amendment 0011, End of Paragraph 13. the language for the DELIVERY DATES will be changed as follows.

FROM ...days and subsequent delivery dates that will be listed in Schedule B.

TO ... days and subsequent delivery dates that will be listed in Schedule B AND FOR ANY FUTURE DELIVERY ORDERS.

PLEASE NOTE that CLIN 0014 (Functional Demonstration) will be changed from 120 days after award to 150 days after award. This will coincide with the previous paragraphs, to allow for the 30 days allocated for government testing/acceptance.

3. The due date for submission of the Final Proposal Revisions remains the same as noted in Amendment 0012. Consequently, the date for submission is still 18 October 2000.

4. All other terms and conditions remain unchanged.
